At any time, poly-E-fair reserves the right to extend the registration period for special circumstances.

The co-organisers reserve the rights to determine whether or not an exhibitor will be admitted. Employment agencies of any kind are excluded from the admission.

In the event of non-payment within the extension period, the organisers reserve the rights to exclude the guilty party from any future event participation.

10. Withdrawal from Registration

Once the definite registration (noting this Terms of Use) has taken place, the contractual relationship cannot be rescinded. If, after a granted extension, the exhibitor doesn't fulfil the obligations which arise from the contract, the Terms of Use and the supplementary provisions, the co-organisers are authorized to withdraw from the contract and to terminate it respectively. The same goes for the case in which the exhibitor's preconditions for the conclusion of the contract are not or no longer given. The same applies if the exhibitor stops its payment, if their capital is judicially filed for reorganisation, if bankruptcy proceedings are instituted or if the exhibitor's company is in liquidation.

If the exhibiting company decides to withdraw from registration, 50% of the participation fee will be charged until two months before the event. After that, the whole participation fee is due.

11. Cancellation of Admission

The co-organisers are entitled to cancel the admission, if

- the virtual stand is discernibly not occupied in time - deadline for delivering the virtual content is 31 January 2022.
- the requirements for the admission of a yet registered exhibitor are no longer fulfilled, or the co-organisers later learn about reasons, which would have justified the exclusion of the exhibitor.

Reimbursements of the participation fee will not be executed.

12. Setting up of Virtual Stands, Stand Fittings, Stand Layout

During the access hours of the entire event, the booth must be virtually attended and supervised by proficient staff. The deadline for booth design and handing in content is 31 January 2022. Not expecting this deadline may be a reason for exclusion from the poly-E-fair 2022. The virtual stand must suit the overall plan of the event.

The organisers expressly encourage the exhibitors to make use of material which address a diverse audience and exclude any kind of discrimination, stereotypes or offense. If you have doubts, please refer to the website of Equal!, the office for Equal Opportunities and Diversity at ETH Zurich (Website of Equal!).

The co-organisers have the right to prohibit the exhibitor from setting up unsuitable, bothering or inappropriate content. If this request is not complied with before the deadline imposed, the co-organisers are entitled to cancel the admission on the Exhibitor's expense.

13. Intellectual Property

Our trademarks and trade dress may not be used in connection with any product or service without the prior written consent of poly-E-fair.

14. Links To Other Websites

Our Service may contain links to third-party websites or services that are not owned or controlled by poly-E-fair.

poly-E-fair has no control over, and assumes no responsibility for, the content, privacy policies, or practices of any third party websites or services. Participating companies further acknowledge and agree that poly-E-fair shall not be responsible or liable, directly or indirectly, for any damage or loss caused or alleged to be caused by or in connection with use of or reliance on any such content, goods or services available on or through any such websites or services.

We strongly advise you to read the terms and conditions and privacy policies of any third-party websites or services that you visit.

15. Termination

We may terminate or suspend your account immediately, without prior notice or liability, for any reason whatsoever, if you breach the Terms.

Upon termination, your right to use the Service will immediately cease. If you wish to terminate your account, inform the co-organisers via email and you may simply discontinue using the Service.

16. Limitation Of Liability

In no event shall poly-E-fair, nor its directors, employees, partners, agents, suppliers, or affiliates, be liable for any indirect, incidental, special, consequential or punitive damages, including without limitation, loss of profits, data, use, goodwill, or other intangible losses, resulting from (i) your access to or use of or inability to access or use the Service; (ii) any conduct or content of any third party on the Service; (iii) any content obtained from the Service; and (iv) unauthorized access, use or alteration of your transmissions or content, whether based on warranty, contract, tort (including negligence) or any other legal theory, whether or not we have been informed of the possibility of such damage, and even if a remedy set forth herein is found to have failed of its essential purpose.

17. Disclaimer

Your use of the Service is at your sole risk. The Service is provided on an "AS IS" and "AS AVAILABLE" basis. The Service is provided without warranties of any kind, whether express or implied, including, but not limited to, implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, non-infringement or course of performance.

poly-E-fair its subsidiaries, affiliates, and its licensors do not warrant that a) the Service will function uninterrupted, secure or available at any particular time or location; b) any errors or defects will be corrected; c) the Service is free of viruses or other harmful components; or d) the results of using the Service will meet your requirements.

18. Governing Law

These Terms shall be governed and construed in accordance with the laws of Switzerland, without regard to its conflict of law provisions.

Our failure to enforce any right or provision of these Terms will not be considered a waiver of those rights. If any provision of these Terms is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court, the remaining provisions of these Terms will remain in effect. These Terms constitute the entire agreement between us regarding our Service, and supersede and replace any prior agreements we might have between us regarding the Service.

19. Changes

We reserve the right, at our sole discretion, to modify or replace these Terms at any time. If a revision is material we will try to provide at least 30 days notice prior to any new terms taking effect. What constitutes a material change will be determined at our sole discretion.

By continuing to access or use our Service after those revisions become effective, you agree to be bound by the revised terms. If you do not agree to the new terms, please stop using the Service.

20. Alterations, Force Majeure

The co-organisers have the right to call off the event, shift it in time or alter its length. Hence, the exhibitor has no right to withdraw from the contract. If the co-organisers are not able to carry out the event due to force majeure or political reasons, the co-organisers are obliged to inform the exhibitors without delay. In principle, the claim for booth rent fails in this case, however, the co-organisers can bill the exhibitor for all the expenditures arisen from the work the co-organisers have been commissioned to do, as far as the result of the work is still of interest to the exhibitor.

Should the co-organisers be able to carry out the event at a later date, they are obliged to inform the booth leasers on this matter without delay. The booth leasers are entitled to cancel their participation on the changed date within one week after the making of the announcement. In this case, they are entitled to a partial refund or waiver of the booth rental fee. If the co-organisers are obliged to cut short or cancel the already started event due to force majeure or political reasons, the Exhibitor has no right to refund or waiver of the stand rental fee.

21. Promotion

Political promotion is inadmissible. The co-organisers are entitled to have recordings taken of the exhibition event, the exhibition sets and stands, and to use them for promotion or press release without the exhibitor's being entitled to object for any reasons. This also goes for photographs, screenshots, recordings and shots, which are directly taken by the press or television with the approval of the co-organisers. The co-organisers will also make use of the company's logo to promote the event with flyers, posters and other promotion material. The use of the promotion material is limited to the event in question. The organisers encourage all exhibitors to communicate their participation in the event via their usual communication channels (website, newsletter, social media etc.).

22. Exhibitor's Claims, Written Form, Place of Performance, Legal Venue

All the exhibitor's claims against the co-organisers are to be brought in writing. The statute of limitation begins with the first start of the event. Agreements which deviate from the conditions or their supplementary provisions, require the written form. It is solely Swiss law that is decisive. Zurich is both place of performance and legal venue. However, the co-organisers have the right to put forward their claims at the court of the place where the exhibitor has their headquarters.
